Unique Secret Weapons Ready

Tokyo, July 22 (Domei).—When the curtain rises on the showdown battle on the Nippon mainland truly unique Nippon secret arms will give vent to Nippon's pent-up striking power, and in concert with our death-dealing special attack tactics will literally annihilate the invaders, declared Lieut.-General Tada, Director-General of the Technical Institute and well-known authority on military science, in a press interview.

He said, "We are now fully prepared strategically, tactically, and in the field of military science as well. In military tactics as well as in the technical field we have prepared something special. Both militarily and scientifically we have ready something which will be far beyond the imagination of the enemy. Of course, this includes new secret arms."

"Up to now the new weapons the world over have been similar in character with respect to the original concept, designs, and production. It has been just a matter of producing something superior to what others have produced."

"We, however, have gone beyond this ordinary run in the mill. Our scientists have devoted all their energy in their researches and have worked out various types of new secret arms which are purely of Nippon origin."

"Our new secret weapons have been adapted to our physical character and individuality and, specially constructed, will make their debut in rapid succession and spring a surprise on the enemy in the case of a showdown battle on our mainland."

"Conforming with the new war situation these are all new Nippon secret weapons the like of which has never appeared in Europe and the like of which the American enemy does not possess. Furthermore, our new arms cannot be copied by the enemy."

Fully Prepared

Nanking, July 25 (Domei).—Nippon residents in China are now fully prepared for any eventuality should the enemy launch landing operations on the China coast.

Nippon residents of Central China are now deployed in all essential wartime occupational fields and furthermore, appropriate measures are carried out in practice to insure the livelihood of Nippon families. All Nippon residents are now in full readiness to take an active part in intensifying overall fighting strength in China.

The People's Volunteer Corps has already been established, similar to those on the Nippon mainland, while in North China movements are at present underway to take steps similar to those taken in Central China.

Coal For Europe

Lisbon, July 21 (Domei).—“The race in Europe today is between coal and anarchy,” Harold Ickes, American solid fuel administrator, declared in an interview yesterday, urging the shipment of approximately three million tons of American coal for civilian use in Europe, according to a Washington dispatch.

He said, “Europe must have coal without loss of time if serious political and social upheavals are to be prevented.”

Ickes previously declared that all coal shipments to “liberated” countries must be halted by Sept. 1 because of domestic needs. It is believed that Ickes' present statement was prompted by instructions from American President Harry Truman who is attending the “Big Three” conference at Potsdam.

Cereal Crops High
In North China

Peking, July 24 (Domei).—People in North China are assured of ample foodstuffs this year as reports reaching here from all parts of North China point to bumper crops this summer in cereals. All indications show a 10 per cent. increase over last year's total which hit a new high.

In addition to promising bumper cereal crops, which form the main foodstuffs of the general public, extensive increased sweet potatoes production which was mapped out early this year, has been put into force.

U.S. Eyes On Indian Trade

Lisbon, July 23 (Domei).—The confidence that the U. S. will be able to derive profits from India's post-war economic and social planning despite the expected tightening of India's import controls was today voiced by the Foreign Commerce Weekly, journal of the American Commerce Department, according to a Washington dispatch.

“It would be unwise to conclude that the Indian market, shortly after the end of the war, will present great opportunities for a multitude of American products,” the journal said. “It nevertheless, may be expected that both official and private planners and importers will use all the dollar exchange they can get to buy not only American products, but advice.”

The journal assured American capitalists that there are ways for cutting into India's post-war economic activities. “It will be expedient for American participants in joint enterprises in India to assure for themselves an adequate voice in production, accounting, product standards and marketing methods in order that proper standards may not only be introduced, but maintained.”

Reflecting the U.S.'s keen interest in future Indian economic developments, the latest edition of the Foreign Commerce Weekly devotes a major part of its feature section to Indian economic affairs.

Economic Unrest

mous increase in coal production can factories obtain sufficient power to restart manufacturing the very goods that the miners want to see in shops. There seems to be a certain insanity in the arguments of the strikers and loafers, but that too, is probably the result of food shortage and wartime strain,” the correspondent said.

Feeling is high against those Dutch people who collaborated with the Germans, but a lot of that feeling is based on purely personal spite and there is no distinct idea as to where the collaboration line is to be drawn.

Food is the major problem in Holland, and the Dutch people are highly sensitive about food matters. The people are critical of the Government's food programme even though they know that transportation is the chief difficulty. They are wondering why supplies dropped by air are not distributed for 10 days in the Hague area and 14 in Rotterdam, while people starved and died.

BEYOND MEDICAL AID

“Black coat workers, too proud to go to clinics and hospitals where Allied medical feeding teams are waiting to help them, stayed in their beds and starved to death. Social workers had to be sent from house to house to succour the skin and bone feather weight women whose pride is stronger than hunger. Soon many of them became too ill to move—even if they wanted to.”

“Even now one can see in the streets, men, women and children weak—looking thin, but not too ill. The doctor will say ‘these people will die...they cannot live because starvation has gone too far, and nothing can be done for them.’” Rowland said.

Soldiers At Docks

Lisbon, July 24 (Domei).—A London dispatch today said that the British Government has decided to order 600 soldiers to take over the unloading of ships at the Surrey docks in London tomorrow, unless there is resumption of work by dockers, who have been pursuing “go slow” tactics.

Although numerous strikes are now taking place along the Thames waterfront, the authorities' decision to send troops to the Surrey docks is said to have been prompted by the fact that the reluctance of dockers there to speed up unloading is delaying military food and relief shipping.

At present about 1,500 workers on the London docks are claiming an increase in pay.

FINANCIAL AID

Kuala Lumpur, July 23 (Domei).—An official statement by the Selangor State Government says that evacuees engaging in food production work in Selangor will be given financial assistance and free distribution of farming implements and seedlings.
